

DIRECTOR OF STUDIES

The success of our spring and summer hinges on the successful delivery of the academic programme. The Director of Studies role requires someone who is able to manage and deliver our programme to the highest standard.

This job description summarises the purpose of the job and lists its key duties. It is not a definitive list of all the tasks to be undertaken as those can vary from time to time at the discretion of the Centre Manager.

About Us

Our students travel from across the world to attend our programmes. Typically, students will receive 15 hours of English language tuition per week supplemented with a comprehensive programme of activities and excursions. Our activity programme consists of both daytime and evening activities as well as half-day and full-day excursions to attractions and places of cultural interest.

Academic Duties

- Understand, implement and maintain Oxford International Junior Programmes' academic procedures and administration.
- With administrative support from the Senior Teachers, manage and oversee the testing, assessment, placement and induction of students
- Prepare accurate timetables, ensuring teachers are allocated to classes and levels that work to the strength of the teachers.
- Be proactive in offering support to teachers, both newly qualified and experienced, before it is actively needed or requested.
- Provide CPD sessions for the academic team throughout their employment.
- Induct all teaching staff on arrival at the centre whereby the standards for the rest of the programme are laid out.
- So your teachers have the tools they need to do their job, you must also manage the use of materials and resources effectively.
- If TEFL Q qualified, you will conduct teacher observations and provide feedback on their performance.
- Maintain a clear line of communication between you and the rest of the academic team through regular staff meetings that are informative and succinct.

Staff Management

- Create a sustained positive atmosphere and motivate effectively, offering praise and recognition whenever possible
- Conduct informative inductions for the academic team as directed by the Academic Director
- Create weekly staff rotas, organising the workload of the staff effectively
- Hold daily meetings with staff that are organised and informative, timely and organised, keeping your staff well informed
- Monitor your teams' performance and conduct interim and end of contract staff appraisals
- Follow Oxford International Junior Programmes' policy guidelines in relation to staff performance and grievance procedures

Other Duties

- Represent the company in a reputable and professional manner at all times
- Respond to emergencies whenever necessary
- Maintain suitable levels of student discipline, safety and welfare
- Always encourage students to use English
- Carry out and/or consult risk assessments whenever required
- Attend the company's staff training weekend (where applicable)
- Attend all induction days prior to the students arriving
- Attend all staff briefings and take part in all necessary health and safety training
- Commit to being a positive role model through your employment
- Carry out all other reasonable tasks

Other TEFL qualifications may be accepted if they have been validated by an external body and include a minimum of 6 hours observed practice. Our programmes cater for children and teenagers, aged between 8 and 17 years old

The role is residential with accommodation and meals provided for you at no cost

You will report directly to the Centre Manager throughout your employment

A Day in the Life

This will give you a taste of what duties you undertake as a Director of Studies

AM sessions

08:00 - 12:00*

Breakfast - I use this time to catch up with my colleagues

I have organised a meeting with all my staff. I make sure the teachers and Senior Teachers are well informed about the day's schedule and their duties and of any changes that may have happened overnight. I answer any questions so that everyone is clear of what they are doing

Yesterday, I planned today's testing for our new arrivals – the testing will happen for most of the morning with the teachers. I am there to oversee the process, ensure everything is on time and everyone is tested

PM sessions

14:00 - 17:30*

Once the testing is done, I head off to grab some lunch and talk to the teachers to get their feedback on how the testing went

I'll get the afternoon testing session up and running and head back to the office to process the morning test, place the students into the right levels and assign each class to the most suitable teacher. If I can I'll start on class lists and paperwork for the teachers for the following day

I'll meet up with the teachers before dinner to make sure everyone knows how we get the students into classrooms tomorrow morning and to ensure everyone knows what they are teaching

EVE sessions

18:00 - 21:30*

Dinner - I use this time to catch up with my colleagues, carrying out the same duties as I did during lunch time.

I'll catch up with the other members of the Senior Staff and we'll head together to the Group Leader meeting. I'm sure they will have loads of questions about the testing and the first few days of lessons

I'm in my office finishing the class lists and any last pieces of admin, getting teaching folders ready and making sure I am fully prepared for tomorrow. I make sure to thank everyone for their efforts before they head off

*Please note activities and timetable can vary depending on campus and programme

Pay Information

- As a Director of Studies, you will earn £600 per week + holiday pay.
- You will work at least 48 hours per week, on average, with evening and weekend work being required. You are entitled to one day off per week (this can be taken at your discretion). Some weeks you will work in excess of 48 hours, therefore you will be asked to 'op-out' of the 48 hour Working Time Directive.

Why Oxford International Juniors?

- We are a highly respected organisation, being named winner of the 2018/2019 Educational Tour Operator of the Year by iStudy Guide.
- With over 30 years' experience, employing thousands of seasonal staff, we know how to provide you with a rewarding and meaningful workplace experience.
- We will provide you with a professional and fun platform to develop your experiences working with children and teenagers.
- Our values drive what we do - we care not just about our students, but our staff too.
